

Gascoigne Halman Lettings further improve their service to Sale

Gascoigne Halman, the area's leading Letting specialists with 14 Letting Centres in South Manchester and North Cheshire are pleased to announce that, in addition to their well-established near by Letting Centres in Altrincham and Didsbury they now have a dedicated Lettings Consultant at their busy Sale Office, where demand from landlords and tenants is extremely strong.

Says Gascoigne Halmans' Director of Lettings, Philip Chadwick: "With such high demand for rented property in this area it made sense for us to further improve our service to Sale – an area which is very popular with families and anyone wanting to live slightly away from the main hub of Manchester central but still within easy access of all its wonderful amenities. Sale has everything a family needs within easy walking distance, plus speedy access to the motorway network and Tram connections to the City centre. The appointment of Kay Grace, who has a Law degree, further demonstrates the commitment we have to this important sector of the housing market. Kay will take up her position on the 7th September following a period of extensive training at our Wilmslow Head Office"

Gascoigne Halman report that that all types of properties are in demand in Sale, especially apartments with outside space. Says Altrincham & Sales' Lettings Manager, Joy Biggs: "We currently have a wide range of quality properties available but tenants need to be aware that anything coming onto the rental market at the moment is being snapped up quickly. So if you are looking to rent in this popular area you will need to act rapidly to secure the property you want."
